Volunteer Opportunities are available with
MOBILE MUTTS RESCUE TRANSPORTS

HOW IT WORKS

Rescue transports are just one part of a multi-pronged process. Through the internet, high kill shelters post lists of the animals currently living in impound that need rescue. Once a rescue commits to take an animal, they contact Mobile Mutts to arrange a transport. Rescue transports are a leg-to-leg, ground relay, much like the old pony express. We like to call it the "Underdog Railway". This is all accomplished by dedicated volunteers, from coordinators, drivers and overnight hosts.

Each leg of the transport is made up of one to one and half hour legs. A sign-up sheet is set up for each transport to get volunteers for each leg of the journey and to overnight the dogs during transport. Once all of the legs are filled, a final run sheet is sent out to the volunteers and then……

QUICK FACTS

Formed in 2008 and based in Champaign Illinois

100% VOLUNTEER BASED with over 1200 Volunteers from all walks of life; from students to retirees

Operated in seven States with transport runs 50 weeks of the year

Over 660 dogs transported to the safety of Rescues in 2012

We work only with fully screened and approved rescues using foster homes not shelter environments. You know the dogs you are helping are going to rescues where they will have to best chance to find their "furever" homes!
